

London Labour Market — Final Recommendations

Phase 08E | BI/Data Analyst Portfolio

Executive conclusion

The analysis identifies a relatively small group of boroughs with consistently high relative labour-market priority. The strongest cases are those that remain high across sensitivity scenarios, rather than those selected by one arbitrary weighting.

Priority recommendation

Focus analytical and programme-planning attention first on the robust high-priority borough group. Treat sensitivity cases separately so that model uncertainty is visible rather than hidden.

Intervention recommendation

Use the labour-market profile alongside priority status. Higher-disadvantage profiles support an integrated employment and participation focus; the high-inactivity profile supports greater emphasis on economic participation and re-engagement; employment-centre boroughs should be monitored using a structurally different lens.

BI recommendation

Make priority, robustness, cluster profile and intervention theme visible together in Power BI. This creates a decision-support product rather than a dashboard that merely displays descriptive statistics.

Governance recommendation

Refresh the model as source data update, preserve the scoring specification, and retain sensitivity testing so that changes in ranking can be distinguished from changes caused by modelling assumptions.

Limitations

The analysis measures relative patterns and does not establish causality. Intervention themes are evidence-informed rather than evaluated policy prescriptions. Jobs density has a distinctive distribution and is therefore explicitly sensitivity-tested.

Robust priority group

Rank	Borough	Intervention focus
1	Barking and Dagenham	Integrated employment + participation support
2	Redbridge	Integrated employment + participation support
3	Enfield	Integrated employment + participation support
4	Newham	Economic participation / re-engagement
5	Kensington and Chelsea	Economic participation / re-engagement
6	Barnet	Integrated employment + participation support
7	Croydon	Integrated employment + participation support
8	Greenwich	Integrated employment + participation support
9	Hounslow	Integrated employment + participation support
10	Haringey	Integrated employment + participation support

Decision framework: Borough → priority → robustness → profile → intervention focus → KPI
